

California Water Commission

Workshop on Small Water Systems in Southern California

Monday, March 3, 2014

Caltrans District 11 Office Complex

4050 Taylor Street, Garcia Room

San Diego, California 92110

1:00 p.m. to approx. 4:30 p.m.

The California Water Commission will host a public workshop focusing on the challenges facing small water systems in rural, urban, and disadvantaged communities. Many state agencies are working diligently on drought response actions this year, and the Commission is particularly interested in addressing the disproportionate impact of the drought on some small communities. This workshop is intended to provide information to the members of the Commission and the public, and may inform future actions by the Commission. A quorum of members may be present at this workshop.

1. Welcome by California Water Commission Members
2. Overview of California Drought Conditions and Department of Water Resources Activities
3. Briefing on the National Integrated Drought Information System (NIDIS) Drought Pilot
4. Public Health Agency Perspective
5. Discussion with California Rural Water Association
6. Discussion with California Association of Mutual Water Companies
7. Discussion of Challenges Facing Disadvantaged Communities
8. Panel Discussion with Small System Operators
9. Public Comment and Discussion of Next Steps

Further information regarding this workshop will be available at www.cwc.ca.gov.

- Members of the public shall be provided an opportunity to address the California Water Commission on any agenda item except closed session items.
