MEETING DESCRIPTIONS

Stakeholder Advisory Committee - The California Water Commission has convened a broadly representative SAC to learn about the Water Storage Investment Program and suggest technical and policy improvements. The SAC will typically meet the first Wednesday of every month.

California Water Commission Meetings – The California Water Commission holds regular public information and input opportunities at Commission meetings the third Wednesday of every month. Several meetings above include Issues Working Sessions during which the Commission will make critical decisions resolving issues related to the Water Storage Investment Program and the development of regulations.

California Water Commission Workshops - The California Water Commission will hold two 2-4 hour public workshops input sessions in conjunction with regularly scheduled California Water Commission meetings.

Public Meetings - The Water Commission will convene six public meetings, in different regions in California, to inform citizens about the program and provide a chance for public input on the regulations and program development/implementation.

Tribal Consultation Workshop - There will be a two day Tribal Consultation Workshop for tribal governments to provide input related to the Water Storage Investment Program and the regulations. Any other requests for specific coordination meetings will be accommodated to the best of the Project Team’s ability.
