

Update on Program and Administrative Activities for Water Storage Investment Program

Background

In November 2014, California voters passed Proposition 1: the Water Quality, Supply, and Infrastructure Improvement Act of 2014. The bond dedicated $2.7 billion to be continuously appropriated to the California Water Commission to pay for the public benefits of water storage projects and requires the Commission to develop regulations for the quantification and management of the public benefits of water storage projects. The Commission is carrying out its new responsibilities through the Water Storage Investment Program.

Jenny Marr, Commission Supervising Engineer and WSIP Project Manager, will update the Commission on the status of technical work, and other programmatic and administrative issues.
