

Overview of the Central Valley Project

BACKGROUND

At the Commission's June 21, 2017 meeting, Department of Water Resources staff provided an overview of the State Water Project (SWP) and its operations as background information for the Commission's annual review of the operations of the SWP. After that presentation, the Commission requested a similar overview of the Central Valley Project (CVP) in order to gain a more complete understanding of California's water system.

At this meeting, U.S. Bureau of Reclamation staff will provide an overview of CVP operations, including integration with the State Water Project. This is an informational item.
