

Water Storage Investment Program (WSIP) Program Future Considerations

Background

In July, the Commission made conditional commitments (Maximum Conditional Eligibility Determinations or MCEDs) to eight projects in the Water Storage Investment Program (WSIP). Applicants must complete requirements specified in Proposition 1 and the Commission's regulations before returning to the Commission for a hearing and a final award. No two applicants will have the same timeline for completing the requirements. While some projects may be ready for their award hearing in 1 to 2 years, other projects may take as many as eight years. In the event that one or more applicants do not complete the requirements, or the final award is less than the MCED, the Commission may have additional WSIP funding available. The Commission has ample time to consider how it wishes to handle such future scenarios.

At this meeting, Commission Executive Officer Joe Yun will describe options for the Commission to consider if funding becomes available.
